

New data suggests an increasing demand for lower-cost rental housing in southeastern Connecticut, as the region's baby boomers become retirees and young households seek out entry-level housing.

What will this mean for the region's cities and towns?

Learn more about the findings of the 2018 Southeastern CT Housing Needs Assessment.

March 12, 2018
Connecticut College

New London
Crozier-Williams Center
Reception 5:30 pm
Program 6:00 pm

March 15, 2018
Otis Library

Norwich
261 Main St
Refreshments 8:30 am
Program 9:00am

Presented by

Sponsored by

In partnership with

To RSVP call (860) 889-2324 or visit tiny.cc/SECT2018
facebook.com/SeCTHousingAlliance