He said that this study is recommended in the recently completed JLUS Implementation Study. It would require 10% in match, which could be SCCOG funds, in-kind hours, or a combination thereof, which is why this requires SCCOG action. D) Roundtable Discussion of Municipal Contingency Planning in Response to COVID-19

The Chairman stated that it was great to have the opportunity to have the region's Chief Elected Officials and Managers get together to discuss this important health crisis. He asked the Directors of the two regional health districts to provide an update.

Note: The account provided here is much abbreviated due to the fact that much of the discussion was provided over the telephone and therefore difficult to transcribe. For a detailed accounting of what happened, please listen to the recording of the meeting which is posted on the SCCOG web site.

Mr. Mansfield reported on the Governor's recent emergency declaration, which has created some uncertainty for health districts. He addressed protocols for dealing with ill employees, and stated that local police departments are responsible for restaurants closing other than for take-out and delivery service.

Mr. McCormack said he echoed Mr. Mansfield's comments. He said the state's health directors are working closely together and have been discussing this pandemic for weeks. He did state that Uncas Health District stopped monitoring the prior travel of patients that have become infected. Chairman Nickerson commented on how this health crisis is so different from previous emergencies he has experienced in his six years as First Selectman, where the duration was shorter and in which as municipal CEO he was guiding the response. Now, most of the control over response has to come from the federal and state governments.

Ms. Chesebrough noted that the Town of Stonington experienced a pretty advanced attempt at hacking the Town's computers yesterday. Mr. Sparkman and Mr. Brule stated that their towns had similar hacking attempts occur.

Mr. Brule said he was informed that the Governor would be addressing the subject of municipal meetings today; his town was going to the platform ZOOM to hold meetings.

Ms. Chesebrough said Town of Stonington is working on creative ways staff can continue to work and get paid if they are in jobs not easily performed at home, but do not know what to do yet with employees if there is a forced quarantine.

Mr. Passero reported on City of New London efforts to allow those employees that can to work from home, but stated that some like emergency service providers and public works cannot work out of their home. He said their Social Services staff are overwhelmed dealing with how this is impacting the region's homeless population.

The Chairman asked Senator Osten to comment on how this health crisis is impacting labor contracts and provisions such a binding arbitration. Senator Osten stated that these are exigent circumstances, which she will be discussing with her colleagues and the administration. Mr. Passero stated that he believed the State will have to make provisions for dealing with inadvertent violations collective bargaining agreements due to COVID-19.

Chairman Nickerson said that the last thing we want to do is to lay staff off, as they are part of each municipality's team. He said that as CEOs, it is still a responsibility to ask that question.

Mr. Brule said he found this morning's meeting useful, and asked where are we going as a group? He suggested continuing weekly teleconferences on this issue, because he said working together all SCCOG members will make better decisions. The Chairman said going forward during this crisis, the SCCOG will host a weekly teleconference on Wednesdays at 8:30 a.m. This was ratified by a unanimous vote of SCCOG members present.
